DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. New corrected drawings filed 14 February 2005 are approved and overcome the previous objection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 9-21 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 9 and 11 recite two lever members with either serrations or specific handle structure that is aligned with or adjacent to sections of "the other lever member", thus implying that there is a "third" lever member that is not disclosed or shown.

4. Normally a claim which fails to comply with the first and/or second paragraph of § 112 will not be analyzed as to whether it is patentable over the prior art since to do so would of necessity require speculation with regard to the metes and bounds of the claimed subject matter, In re Steele, 308 F.2d 859, 862-63, 134 USPQ 292, (CCPA 1962) and In re Wilson, 424 F.2d 1382, 1385, 496 USPQ 494, 496 (CCPA 1970).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3723

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-8 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Komen et. al. or Jeske et. al. in view of Henderson.

Either Komen et. al. or Jeske et. al. shows the claimed invention except for the use of "at least two oblique angles" on the working edges of each lever member. Henderson suggests that a cutting tool can have a working edge that is made up of multiple obliquely angled surfaces to enhance the cutting action. It would therefore be obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to modify either Komen et. al. or Jeske et. al. by using a more than one angled surface from the working edge because Henderson suggests the use of such a construction to enhance the cutting action.

To use any desired angle or size of surface is within the level of skill of a person skilled in the art.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9-21 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claims 9 and 11 clearly refer to two lever member having "cutting blade sections" each defining a plurality of serrations aligned with the "serrations of the other lever member" (claim 9) or "working edges" that are "positioned adjacent a working edge of the other lever member" (claim 11). There are thus three lever members that are apparently different, not two as disclosed in the specification and shown in the drawings. It is ambiguous as to what or where this "third lever member" represents.

Claims 1-8 do not define over the suggestion provided by Henderson that a blade of a cutting tool can be made with more than one surface that is angled back from the edge.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
